

Restorative Practices Training Autumn 2015

Are you interested in building and repairing relationships, contributing to developing happier and safer communities and being able to resolve conflict positively?

If your answer is YES, then Restorative Practices (RP) training is for you!

The RP approach is to prevent serious problems by being consistent in building and maintaining relationships and in resolving conflicts easily and effectively when they do arise. Since 2010, the Childhood Development Initiative (CDI) has been working to develop Tallaght West as a restorative community.

An independent evaluation of CDI's RP Programme from 2010-2012 found that it had been successful in improving people's ability to handle conflict; in reducing the occurrence of conflict (particularly workplace conflict); in increasing collaboration between agencies; in improving relationships between service providers and service users, between work colleagues and between family members; and in supporting people to become more willing to report crime and anti-social behaviour. The report is available at www.twcdi.ie/resources-information-centre/evaluation-reports
